

The author relates the unusual, interesting stories of investigating aircraft accidents and settling the claims for the insurance companies. They took place during the 1950s, 1960s and 1970s, mainly in Las Vegas, and there are many stories of the wild and crazy happenings that took place during those days. He had access to many of these stories that would otherwise be unknown. His office was assigned to take care of and settle all claims against the City of Las Vegas and Clark County for over ten years. The author moved to Southern California, so the stories in the later years take place in Southern California, South America and the South Pacific. He also discusses the accident causes and gives advice for safe flying that pilots should practice while flying.
