

The I Am Series of books is for the young reader. Each features an animal. It talks to the reader. It tells the reader who it is. It becomes the story. A big, wild animal can be scary. It isn't as scary when it speaks. Most of the speakers are animals or birds in North America. Some are in danger of disappearing. They are on a list to protect them. So meet the red fox. Let it speak. A Note to Parents This book and others published by ngbkids have been checked for reading level (RL). This author pushes RL limits. He uses longer, slightly more difficult sentences. This description has a 4.7 reading level. The opening description on the series has 2.6 RL The book uses the non-fiction fiction format. This format supports the literacy standard of Common Core.
